AIR Gallery is proud to present the AIR Open 2017; our first open exhibition showcasing 40 multi-disciplinary artists working in the field of contemporary art.

This diverse show features a collection of artwork that has been carefully selected by our panel from the hundreds of applications we received from artists across the globe.

Director of AIR Gallery, Becky Wild states that “The AIR Open 2017 exhibition is part of our official launch and what a great way to open our doors to the public. The variety of work entered gives us an exciting insight into what artists across the globe are making, and the diversity of entries is what makes this open exhibition so successful. Many of the works entered are from early career artists, but it is just as important for us to see work by people who are just starting out, or who haven't shown their work before. One of our aims at the gallery is to provide opportunities for emerging artists and it is great that we have received many entries from new graduates who are looking for a platform to launch their career outside of University.”

The exhibition takes place from the 11th August until the 30th September at the new contemporary art space AIR Gallery; part of A4 Studios CIC based on Grosvenor Road, Altrincham. Visitors are encouraged to vote for their favourite work as part of our People's Choice Award. Many of the works featured are also available for sale, providing an ideal opportunity to support emerging talent worldwide.
